

Directions to 1700 S. Patterson Boulevard:

The Center for Leadership is in the old NCR headquarters building which is located at the intersection of S. Patterson Blvd. and Carillon Blvd. There is a large "University of Dayton" sign at the intersection for the entrance to the building. The building can be seen from the road and is easily identified by its all window front. Follow the driveway to the right of the building and park in the R1 parking lot on the south (right) side of the building, (be sure to park in a non-guest space), then proceed to enter in the front of the building. You will not receive a parking ticket, and if you do, notify us immediately so we can take care of it for you.

Note: We have received feedback from guests that have used directions from their gps and google that the directions weren't very good and they had problems finding the building.
